We are a one-stop firm for business.

MORE THAN 20 YEARS AGO, BUSINESS LAW WAS FAIRLY simple and straightforward. No longer. Today, it is a complex legal area that encompasses real estate transactions, creation of business entities, labor/employment law, civil and commercial litigation, secured transactions, restructuring, receivership and debtor/creditor law issues.

Since 1986, Beck, Chaet, Bamberger & Polsky, S.C. has not only kept up with the changes in business law, but it has anticipated the future as well. The firm, listed as one of Milwaukee's 25 largest practices last year, provides a broad array of services for individuals, small businesses and Fortune 500 companies.

"We are a one-stop firm for business," says Michael Bamberger, managing partner. "Our clients know that when we say we can handle something, we will."

EXPERIENCED AND EFFECTIVE The firm's attorneys are nationally recognized for their skills. Directors Bamberger, Barry Chaet and Michael Polsky have all been named to the Wisconsin Super Lawyers® list. Polsky has also been named to The Best Lawyers in America®. The Business Journal noted that Polsky "has built southeast Wisconsin's largest business insolvency and receivership practice." Shareholders J. Paul Neumeier and Matthew Vignali and associate Steve Jelenchick have all been included on the Rising Stars list.

"We continually keep on top of changing laws and regulations that affect business," says Chaet. It is no easy feat.

Amendments to labor statutes are numerous, and courts can interpret laws differently. Health care compliance, regulation and litigation also change with lightning speed.

Because the attorneys at Beck, Chaet, Bamberger & Polsky, S.C. are experienced and well informed, they handle matters efficiently and at a reasonable cost.

A BROAD BASE The firm serves public, private and not-for-profit clients in the following industries: industrial/commercial and manufacturing, investment/financial services, health care and hospitality, and university and professional services.

No matter the size or the industry, every client receives a cooperative approach. "Client service is built on our responsiveness to clients' needs," says Polsky. "We fully understand the relationship between the corporations, investors, employees and competitors—all of whom must be treated with respect and sensitivity."

The firm is equally sensitive to the cost of doing business in today's economy. "We work to anticipate and prevent unnecessary litigation," Bamberger says. "But should litigation arise, we want to find the quickest and fairest resolution of disputes. Unnecessary litigation and legal expenses are not a required part of 'the business of doing business.'"
